

THE ENVY ISSUE

BooM

BOSTON'S MOST ENVIED
PEOPLE

25
LIVES
YOU WISH YOU HAD

home design

GROWNUP
PLAYROOMS

A MAKEOVER
STORY

HOW GRETCHEN MONAHAN
STYLED HER WAY TO STARDOM

THE NEW STATUS SYMBOLS

The Latest Trends in Self-Aggrandizement

plus:

Sex, Power, and Image Sculpting at Sports Club/LA

Bitter Rivals
Skewer the City's Hottest
Chef

and:

ANITA SHREVE'S
SCANDALOUS
NEW NOVEL,
DEVAL PATRICK'S
SNEAKY WANNABE
SUCCESSORS, AND FALLEN
HEDGE FUND KING
JEFF LARSON'S
BOLD BET

OCTOBER 2008 $4.99 bostonmagazine.com

The T-Shirt Tycoon
WHO Johnny "Cupcakes" Earle, fashion entrepreneur

The Half-Baked Ham
WHO Dane Cook, "comedian"

The Anti-Flack

WHO Marlo Fogelman, publicist

JEALOUS MUCH?

No matter how sprawling your summer home, how shiny your medals, how gracefully curvilinear your jawline, there are always bigger, shinier, curvier assets to covet. Namely, the types of nonpareils that have elevated the following Bostonians to our list of the most envied people in town.

To them, we must say thanks: But for their maddening example, we might have remained obviously trapped in prisons of complacent self-worth, and never clamored for more.

The RSVP VIP

WHO Lisa Pierpont, socialite

The Sticky-Bun Queen

WHO Joanne Chang, chef and restaurateur

The Good Shepherd

WHO Matt Damon, actor