

APRIL 2014
THE COMPLETE GUIDE TO GO®

Boston

where®

Find
the best of the city

wheretraveler.com

Spring Things

7 WAYS TO WELCOME
THE SEASON

THE BOSTON
MARATHON RISES
FUN JUST FOR KIDS
WHERE TO NOSH

Nalaga'at Deaf-blind Acting Ensemble performs "Not By Bread Alone"

The Sense of Things

ArtsEmerson brings Tel Aviv's Nalaga'at Theater to Boston for the first time, April 1-6. In the unique production Not By Bread Alone, professional deaf-blind actors bake bread on stage in real time while offering audiences touching tales portrayed through gesture and spoken Hebrew (with English supertitles) that shed light on a sense-challenged world. $40-$250. April 3 is a special presentation by The New Center for Arts & Culture (www.newcenterboston.org). Paramount Center Mainstage, 559 Washington St., 617.824.8400, www.artsemerson.org