

Ice Bar Coming To Faneuil Hall

September 12, 2012 4:13 PM

Faneuil Hall and the surrounding marketplace (credit: Greater Boston Convention & Visitors Bureau)

BOSTON (CBS) – Faneuil Hall is going to get an ice bar. “Frost Ice Bar” has announced that a bar made almost entirely of ice will open at the Boston landmark next spring.

The attraction is popular in other cities like Stockholm and London.

The temperature inside is just 24 degrees.

The company's website describes the bar as, “a year-round multi-sensory experience where guests may enjoy delicious cocktails served in ice glasses, while exploring our out-of-this-world attraction that is carved almost entirely from ice.”

<http://boston.cbslocal.com/2012/09/12/ice-bar-coming-to-faneuil-hall/>