Frost Ice Bar FROST ICE BAR

The drinks are always cold at Boston's Frost Ice Bar, constructed and furnished entirely with blocks of ice kept at a chilly 21 degrees. Just opened at Faneuil Hall, it's New England's first permanent, year-round, indoor ice bar. The interior features an elaborately carved bar, chandelier, seating and even "paintings" all made of ice. The bar also features sculptures of Boston landmarks and historical figures, such as the Swan Boats, the Zakim Memorial Bridge and Paul Revere. Even the drinks are served in ice glasses. You don't have to worry about getting frostbite — visitors are limited to 45 minutes per visit.
