Oregon Trails

More than 200 years ago, Lewis and Clark floated down the Columbia River. Now, LifeCycle Adventures leads you down the same path—by bike. Known for two-wheeled trips through California's wine country, the company is expanding its offerings to the Columbia River and Willamette Valley. When you're snapping photos of Mount Hood or sipping Oregon pinot, you'll thank those explorers for putting the region on your radar. lifecycleadventures.com

CASUAL TEE // The newly opened Corales Golf Course is one of those Caribbean gems challenging enough to force you to put down the mojito, take out the wedge, and execute a tight-lie chip shot. At the Punta Cana Resort on the eastern shores of the Dominican Republic, the Corales has craggy coves and stunning vistas, plus a shot over the Bay of Corales. Of course, the biggest challenge is keeping fresh ice in your drink. puntacana.com

▲ MAIL CALL // Madrid's Museo Nacional del Prado is winning over young audiences with "The Art of Power," an exhibition on display until May 23 featuring armor worn by Spanish monarchs. On loan from the Royal Armoury, these cuirasses, shields and helmets rarely see the light of day. museodelprado.es

▼ NORTHERN HOSPITALITY // Toronto's booming film industry draws plenty of Hollywood A-listers. Now they'll feel right at home, as Thompson Hotels opens its first non-U.S. location. Expect modern rooms, a roof deck with poolside cabanas and a fireplace lounge. Guests can stretch out in an on-site yoga studio and dine at Scarpetta, featuring cuisine by James Beard-winning chef Scott Conant. Welcome to the north, Thompson. thompsonhotels.com

▼ DO THE WAVE // What's more idyllic than a Victorian mansion overlooking the sea? A Victorian mansion overlooking the sea after a $140 million restoration. The Ocean House in Rhode Island kicks off its new look with a designer show house for charity. During the rest of the year, relax in a cottage at one of New England's classic beach retreats. oceanhouseri.com

▼ MERLIN'S BEARD! // Quidditch, anyone? Take the family to Universal Orlando's new feature, "The Wizarding World of Harry Potter." To celebrate its opening, the park's resorts are offering a deal even Muggles will appreciate: four nights' stay at Loews Portofino Bay, Hard Rock Hotel or Loews

Royal Pacific; three days' admission to Universal Studios and Island of Adventure; an express pass; and, of course, early access to the Harry Potter attraction. The deal starts May 28 and costs $1,548 for a family of four. universalorlando.com

A TOUCH OF CLASS // The Glenmere Mansion picks up where the country manors of old money Vanderbilts and Rockefellers left off. The former weekend home of a turn-of-the-century New York socialite, this classic 18-suite playpen—recently featured in Architectural Digest—has been lovingly rebuilt and impeccably decorated with statuary hailing from Spain and China and includes gardens, a spa, a pool and stunning views of the Catskills. Don't forget your dinner jacket. glenmeremansion.com
