

Mom's Marbles

New ideas every day...
so mom won't lose her marbles.

Showing posts for query smashies. Show all posts

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 15, 2008

Smashies Winners

Congratulations to Cecilia (with the gmail account) and Mommyhood Is Thankless! Please send your mailing information to MomsMarbles(at)hotmail.com so we can get your Smashies in the mail ASAP!

Thanks to everyone who commented with snacks tips and ideas. Be sure to check out the comments for some great information for making snack time a little easier and healthier at your house.

POSTED BY MOM'S MARBLES AT 9:09 PM 0 COMMENTS LINKS TO THIS POST

LABELS: CONTEST

★ KIRTSY THIS

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 8, 2008

Great New Snack: Smashies! (Contest)

One talent that helps moms keep their marbles is being able to fill a child's request at the speed of light.

We all know that when we hear the cry of "I'm hungry" we have but a few moments to get food into their mouths before the situation can escalate. Having quick and healthy snacks on hand is a necessity in the home of sane mothers.

We lucky ladies at Mom's Marbles had the chance to review a snack that is brand new to the market, Smashies Organic Applesauce!

Can I just tell you that I am in love? Honestly! Just think for a minute about individually wrapped snacks you normally have on hand for your kids. They are all probably full of corn syrup or tons of salt. Not Smashies!

And the packaging is genius! I have always steered clear of individual applesauce cups because of the mess they can make. Just opening the foil lid can send globs flying across the room. But with Smashies, you just twist off the lid and your kids drink the applesauce from a little spout. You can easily slip 2 or 3 pouches in your purse, too!

My kids absolutely loved them. They said they were "Yummy!" and had fun squeezing the pouches into their mouths.

Smashies are now available in grocery stores but if you can't find them in your neighborhood just yet, you can always order online!

Or you could just leave a comment here, by next Tuesday night, telling us your favorite snack time tip and be entered in a chance to win some Smashies of your own! What are your kids favorite snacks? What snack time tips do you have to share with other moms? Two winners will be randomly drawn next and announced next Wednesday!