Organic Apple Sauce for Kids is a Smash!

There's a new healthy snack in town and it's produced by Luvli Foods Inc.. Their new product is called Smashies, a convenient, no mess on-the-go fruit saucesnack.

Why received some samples and handed them over to Sammy, the 18 month old who can be quite a finicky eater. At first he thought it was just a toy - and he immediately wanted to remove the red screw cap himself. Then one squirt and he was hooked. He literally ate it in less than 2 minutes. He loved it. The photo to the left is of him walking around with it - trying to get every last drop!

Since Sammy loves it, we love it too! All parents should because:

- It's organic, with no added sugar.
- The squeezey pouch is a brilliant idea! The size fits perfectly in tiny hands and they love that they can control their eating.
- It's easy to grab one to go. Stick it in your purse, tote, backpack, whatever you've got. They fit anywhere.
- Best of all - there's no mess! Nope - he didn't squeeze it out all over the table or onto the floor (or onto himself). Sam didn't want to miss a drop so it went where it should - all into his mouth.

The first flavor out is "Snappy Apple" and they mentioned there are 3 more flavors coming soon! Can't wait! At the grocery store I looked down the aisles in hope of finding Smashies on the shelf. Too soon! Smashies are new, so they're not in stores YET. But visit Smashies.com and find out how you can get a 10-pack of your own!

We are!
