

B Food Service Report

Rolling For A Good Cause

For one night each month through 2013, Anna's Taqueria of Boston allows local celebrities take over the line to roll burritos for hungry diners, with the total cost of each burrito benefiting the charity of the featured roller's choice. In August, Louis DiBiccari, co-owner/executive chef of Tavern Road, and Ashley Stanley, founder of nonprofit Lovin'

Spoonfuls, rolled burritos to support the food rescue organization's mission to service the hungry and underprivileged communities in Boston and the MetroWest areas. Pictured above are (l to r): Mike Kamio, owner of Anna's Taqueria, Ashley Stanley of Lovin' Spoonfuls, Louis DiBiccari of Tavern Road and manager Carlos Castellon.