iTequila!

FORGET THE WORM; that's mezcal. True tequila must be made from the fermented and distilled syrup of the blue agave plant grown in and around Tequila, Mexico. It comes in five main styles: blanco (called white or silver), bottled soon after distillation; joven or abocado (gold), a flavored and colored version of tequila blanco; reposado (rested), which ages for at least two months; añejo (aged), aged for at least one year; and extra añejo, aged for three years. Lolita Cocina & Tequila Bar has more than 300 tequilas and numerous cocktails, like the spicy cucumber margarita (PICTURED), made with blanco tequila, habañero-infused vodka, orange liqueur, cucumber and lime. ¡Salud!
