Trendspotting: initial pendants

It's no surprise that Glee's self-absorbed main character, Rachel, would wear a pendant with the initial "R" around her neck to school. And it's no surprise that any fashion from Fox's hit show would become an instant trend among real women.

A new website specializing in customizable jewelry called Gemvara.com allows you to design your own initial pendant. Choose the script, metal and stone; order through the website; and in no time, you'll be letter-perfect. Prices run about $70 to $250.
