

Presented by Boston magazine

Elegant WEDDING

INSIDE
More Than 70 Reception
Sites
to Choose From

DESTINATION WEDDING

Berkshires Romance

95 TIPS FOR
A HAPPY
FIRST YEAR

Timeless Gowns

PRETTIER THAN EVER

EAT, DRINK AND BE MARRIED:

- Reception Wine
- Modern Catering
- Global Cakes
- Perfect Picnics

Spring/Summer 2005 $4.95
Display until June 28, 2005

A peek at the season's hottest trends • Edited by Christa L. Vagnozzi

Bridal

BOUQUET

Cookie Couture

Cakes are no longer the only baked goods playing a starring role at weddings. "We are doing all different kinds of cookies for weddings and showers," says Lisa Morin, owner of Bella Regalo, a wedding-favor and accessory company in Rehoboth.

The possibilities are endless: Butter cookies can be cut to look like miniature replicas of your actual cake, monogrammed to use as favors—or even substituted for the three-tiered standard. Bella Regalo offers bride, groom and wedding-dress cookies, ABOVE, which Morin says brides love to send to their girlfriends along with a special invitation: "Will you be my bridesmaid?"

If you want to have your wedding cake and eat your cookies, too, consider a three-dimensional, full-size Cookie Wedding Cake, RIGHT, from Boston-based Geoff & Drew's. The layers are made from the bakery's own award-winning cookie recipe and then decorated like a wedding cake. Couples can take their pick of chocolate chunk, white-chocolate macadamia, double fudge or M&M.

Also available from Geoff & Drew's are charming ribbon-tied bags of Cookie Confetti, ABOVE LEFT, tasty morsels to give your guests a sweet send-off.

—Christie Matheson

PHOTOGRAPH BY CARL TREMBLAY • STYLING BY JULIE PAQUETTE FOR TEAM THE AGENCY

