A GREAT DRINK

➔ Teddie's Peanut Butter Dream was invented by Alexandra Koblan at Bully Boy Distillers in Boston. You can order it at the Bully Boy tasting room, but you can also make it at home. The key is fat washing. You soak the peanut butter in rum to impart the peanut-butter flavor in the spirit without adding the slickness of the fat itself. And since you have to use an entire bottle of rum for the fat washing, it's more than just an everyday drink. It's a drink for entertaining. Invite some friends over and serve.

TEDDIE'S PEANUT BUTTER DREAM

- 1½ oz peanut butter fat-washed rum*
- ½ oz heavy cream
- ½ oz white rum
- ¾ oz simple syrup
- 1 egg white
- 1 heaping scoop Teddie's Natural peanut butter

Combine ingredients in a cocktail shaker without ice. Dry shake for 12 to 15 seconds until ingredients are well mixed. Add ice and shake for 7 to 10 seconds, or until the tin begins to feel cold. Double strain into a coupe glass and serve.

*PEANUT BUTTER FAT-WASHED RUM

- 1 bottle Bully Boy Boston rum
- 1 cup Teddie's Natural peanut butter

Combine ingredients in a sealed container and let it sit for five hours at room temperature. Place container in freezer and allow mixture to infuse overnight or for up to one week. Remove from freezer, thaw, and strain through a cheesecloth or coffee filter into a new container and seal. Keeps up to one month, refrigerated.
